

18:10

On the way home you recognize an employee, advising a customer exemplary following the "best practice rules".

Because: The development program of PE<sup>sys</sup> ensures sustainable improvement in performance of your employees and executives.

7:45

In the morning you read today's newspaper with its headline: Your company is a leader in its branch.

Because: The successful concept of PE<sup>sys</sup> makes a competitive advantage visible.

8:10

On the way to your office you meet an executive who prepares himself for a staff training.

Because: In the development program of executives take responsibility for putting it into practice. PE<sup>sys</sup>

16:45

Your colleague from the branch in Warsaw calls you to tell you about how marvelous his seminar went yesterday.

Because: The development program of PE<sup>sys</sup> is reproducible and usable internationally as well as cross-culturally.

8:36

You read calculations of profit and loss throughout the year. You are glad about the decreasing costs of 20% compared to the year before regarding human resources development. Your own employees operate as trainers and coaches. You save money for externals.

Because: PE<sup>sys</sup> ensures a company-wide, decentralized implementation of internal resources.

16:22

You get the new version of a training session from PE Systemtraining that is adapted especially for you. Also, you get a draft concerning a new topic that you requested.

Because: PE<sup>sys</sup> makes it easy for you to integrate new, relevant topics into existing concepts and to extend the program with new training sessions.

One day with PE-Systemtraining

15:00

You have an appointment with a new employee and assign him straightaway for a staff seminar next week.

Because: The modular conception of PE<sup>sys</sup> makes it possible for every new employee to get started in a smooth and straightforward way.

9:56

You read the second test results regarding customer satisfaction. The numbers have improved a lot.

Because: Success will become measurable. You work with simple success controls.

14:31

After lunch you walk around and see an executive doing a coaching conversation with an employee.

Because: PE<sup>sys</sup> focuses on short coaching conversations in the working environment. This is how executives ensure putting a concept into practice.

12:04

Together with a colleague you walk into the training room where a staff seminar takes place. The internal trainer works with participants on the implementation of the "best practice rules".

Because: PE<sup>sys</sup> puts the company's goals into specific actions and creates an important orientation for everyone.

10:13

On the way to a meeting, you pass the seminar room and see a flip chart on the wall showing the "best practice rules" of your company.

Because: PE<sup>sys</sup> develops the "best practices" with you that apply to your company.